We are very proud to showcase local wines made by our neighbors, family, and friends. We hope you enjoy them as much as we do!

2017 MONTAGE VINEYARDS rosé | malibu coast 42

John Gooden has been producing wine from the Malibu Coast for over 12 years. His Seven Sons Vineyard is located on the hill just above Paradise Cove. John was instrumental in getting Malibu its third official wine appellation in 2014, the Malibu Coast AVA.

2015 HOYT chardonnay | malibu coast 36

Carol & Stephen Hoyt make wines from their vineyard off Kanan Road and from their ranch in Paso Robles. Carol is also the Wine Editor at our local 90265 Magazine.

2012 THE MALIBU VINEYARD pinot noir | malibu coast 58

In 1985, Chef Michael McCarty (from Michael's in Santa Monica) planted two acres of grapevines on the steep terraced hillside surrounding their home across the street from Duke's. Their wines are made by husband-and-wife team, Bruno D'Alfonso (Sanford) and Kris Curran (Sea Smoke).

2016 ANGELENO WINE CO. grenache | sierra pelona valley, los angeles county 42

The first commercial winery in California was built in 1833, and it wasn't in Napa or Sonoma. It was in downtown Los Angeles. By the mid-19th century, LA was established as a prolific and innovative wine-producing region, with over 100 wineries. Prohibition, urbanization and vine disease decimated the industry and Los Angeles' tradition of local winemaking disappeared. Jasper Dickson and Amy Viste with Angeleno Wine Co. are bringing it back.

2013 CIELO ESTATE cabernet sauvignon | malibu-saddlerock 64

Founded and family owned since 2001, Cielo Vineyards consists of 10 planted acres on a 25 acre ranch in the Santa Monica Mountains up off Mulholland Drive. Their wines are big and bold and expressive of the warm summer days here in Malibu.
